FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Reception: Saturday, September 24th 6-11pm

LTAC Studio invites the community to attend LTAC:NOW! A launch party featuring emerging artists. Celebrate the newly renovated third floor event space with an exciting night of art and music. The event will start at 6:30 pm to 11:00 pm and is free to the public. LTAC:NOW! will be exhibiting works from fifteen distinct artists, collectively curated by Stephanie Sherwood, Dana Rudie, Wilfred Y. and Anthony C. The event will host performances by recording artist/songwriter Savannah Gardner and Garden Echo as well as DJ Sets by Triatomic.

"We would like to invite the public and creative community to see and experience the inspired workmanship from emerging artists and talents at a wonderful bohemian space, we want to show what this place can do" states Wilfred Y, artist & event director. "We intend to show an wide range of contemporary practices from young artists who work here at LTAC as well as others from around Los Angeles, I think we have a great mix of hardworking, driven artists," Stephanie Sherwood, artist and curatorial coordinator.

The LTAC Studio (Little Tokyo Art Complex) is located in the heart of Downtown Los Angeles's Little Tokyo District. This is where bars and new clubs converge with inspiring galleries and chic eateries; music collides with performing art theatres. LTAC Studio aims to collaborate with the creative community to support emerging artists by providing a flexible bohemian space used for exhibition, video/film/photo shoots, private events, pop-up events, etc. We strive to use this unique platform to promote individuals and brands on a global scale. The space is approximately 3,000 square feet with exhibition walls, raw red brick wall framing the large windows, a designated lounge area, mobile conference table, all on the 3rd floor of a historic building with skyline views of Downtown Los Angeles.
